

Blind Walls Gallery

Blind Walls Gallery is an outdoor mural museum in Breda, showcasing over 140 murals that narrate the city's stories. Founded in 2015, this initiative transforms public spaces into a vibrant gallery, inviting both local and international artists to contribute. The murals reflect Breda's rich history and culture, offering guided tours and self-guided routes for visitors to explore. The project aims to enhance the urban environment and engage the community through art and storytelling.

Story Trail

Story Trail offers guided city tours that blend historical storytelling with theatrical performances. Participants are taken on a journey through Dutch cities, where professional storytellers bring legends and historical events to life. These tours are designed for all ages and can be enjoyed by families, friends, and colleagues. Each tour provides an immersive experience, combining education with entertainment, ensuring an engaging and memorable outing. The tours can be booked for groups or joined as part of scheduled events.
